

SilvaStat360 User Instruction

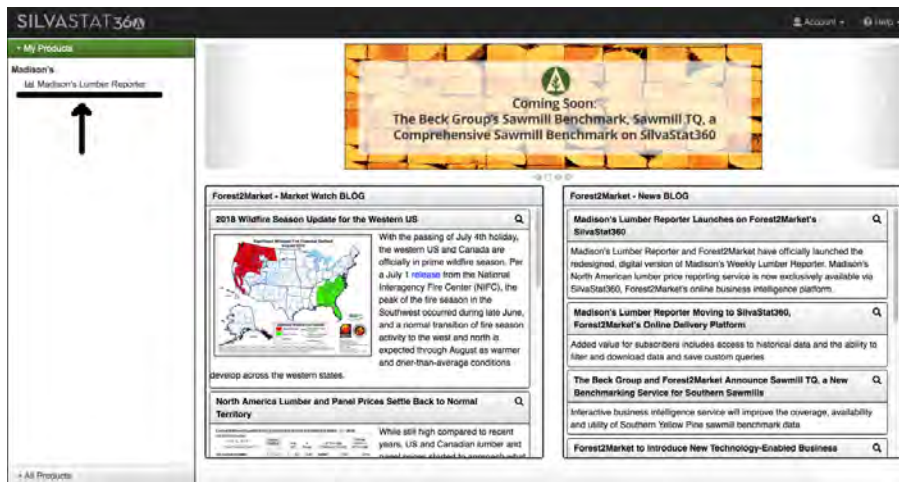

Madison's got some calls today from folks wondering how to use SilvaStat360, so here are step-by-step instructions with screen captures of the actual tool:

Click this link to access your login

https://silvastat360.forest2market.com/auth/signin?from_page=

Click on "View" at the top right menu to see the list of functions available:

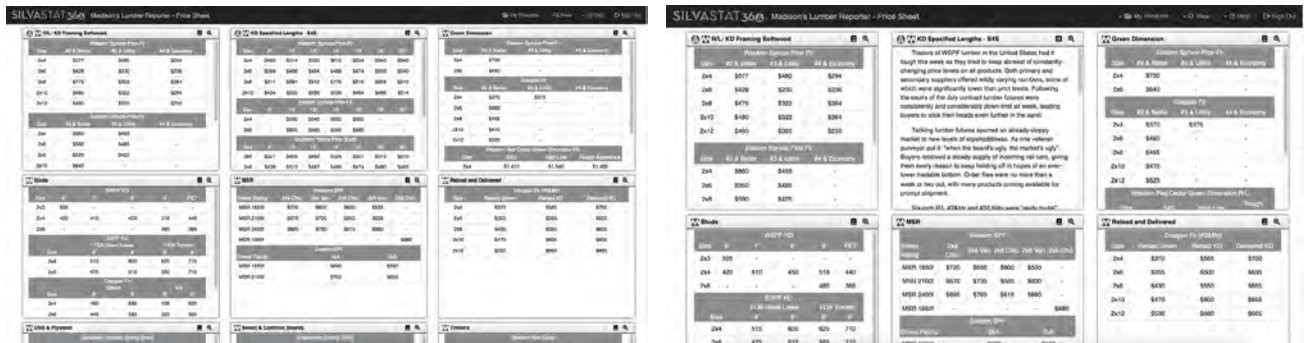

On the left are filters you can use to save specific commodities for future viewing.

If you click on any lumber item name, another screen comes up:

Using the "view" menu at the top right you can scroll through different presentations of Madison's data and lumber commentary.

For the screen above, you can toggle between lumber prices and commentary by clicking the little notebook at the top of each box:

This analytical tool can be customized for individual needs, and those filters saved for future use.

I am in the office all week and month, and for the summer, for any questions.
